

Documentation

TVML / Displaying a Product or Bundle in a Full-Page Template

Sample Code

Displaying a Product or Bundle in a Full-Page Template

Specify scrollable and fixed regions in a product page.

Download

tvOS 13.0+ | Xcode 12.5+

Overview

Note

This sample code project is associated with WWDC 2019 session 211: Mastering the Living Room with tvOS.

Configure the Sample Code Project

Before you run the sample code project in Xcode:

To start a local server run the following command in a terminal within the "Server" folder to create a simple webserver.

```
ruby -run -ehttpd . -p9001
```

See Also

Full-Page Templates

- ☰ alertTemplate
 - Displays important information to the user.
- ☰ catalogTemplate
 - Displays groups of items along one side of a page and images of a group's contents on the other side.
- ☰ compilationTemplate
 - Displays information about a single media item and its components.
- ☰ descriptiveAlertTemplate
 - Displays large amounts of important information to the user.
- ☰ divTemplate
 - Provides the ability to create pages that don't conform to a layout defined by another template.
- ☰ formTemplate
 - Provides the ability to gather information from the user.
- ☰ listTemplate
 - Displays a list of items along one side of a page and the corresponding image on the other side.
- ☰ loadingTemplate
 - Displays a spinner and description on the screen.
- ☰ mainTemplate
 - Displays user options for a media item.
- ☰ menuBarTemplate
 - Creates a page with items along the top and related information below.
- ☰ oneupTemplate
 - Creates a page that allows users to navigate between full-screen images.
- ☰ paradeTemplate
 - Displays a groups of items along one side of a page and scrolling images on the other side.

≡ productBundleTemplate

Displays information for a group of related media items.

≡ productTemplate

Displays detailed information about a single product.

≡ ratingTemplate

Displays a rating for an item.